

Step one: Resize your images.

1. Download and install FastStone image resizer. This is a free batch conversion program.

<http://www.faststone.org/FSResizerDetail.htm>

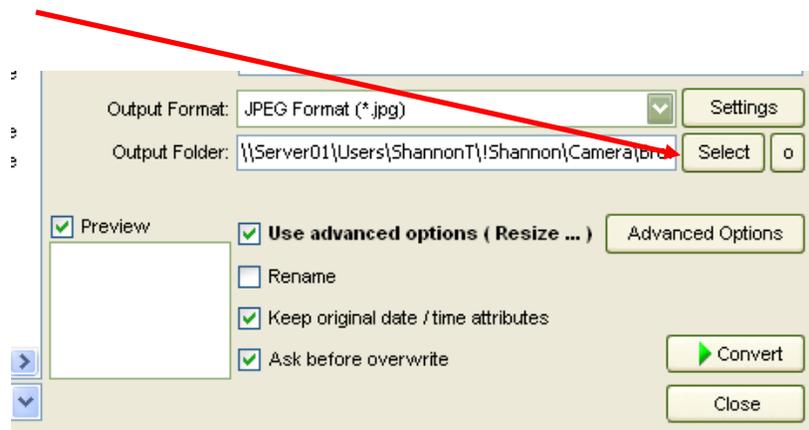

2. Open the program and locate the folder where you have stored the photos by clicking on the downward arrow.

3. Once you have located the photos you can add them one at a time or click add all.

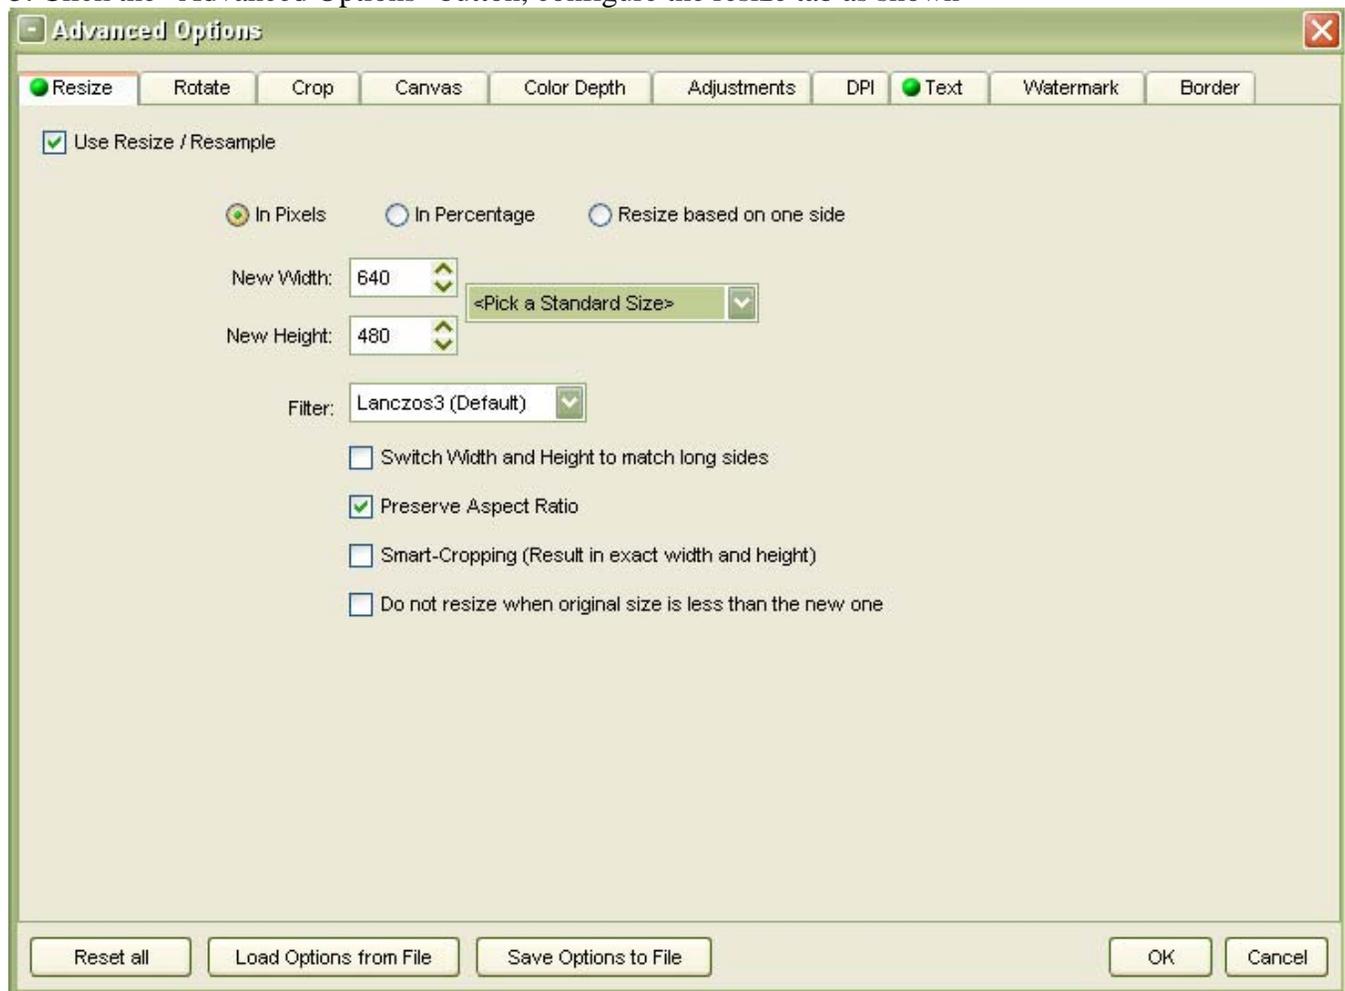

4. Specify your output folder.

Click on "select" at the end of the output folder line and create a new folder somewhere for the resized images.

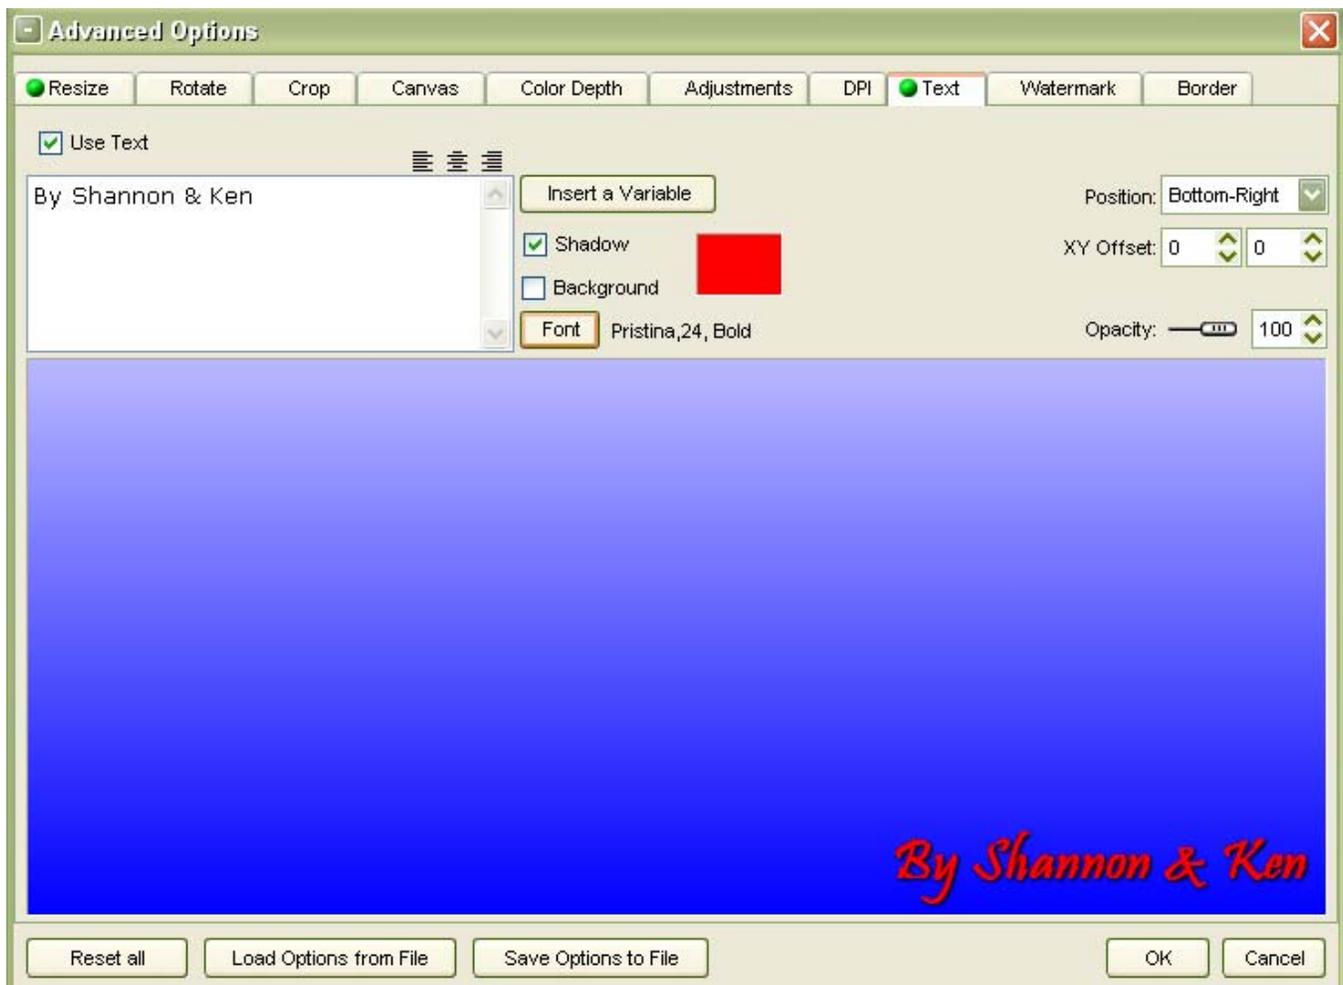

Be sure the rest of your settings match what I have shown above.

5. Click the “Advanced Options” button, configure the resize tab as shown

6. Click on the text tab and configure to your specifications. Mine are as shown:

7. Click ok and you will return to the original screen where you first selected the files to be used.

8. Click convert. When complete click done.

Send your images.

Many service providers will only allow you to send so much information at a time. There are a few work arounds.

1. Send 5-15 images at a time. This is a slow pain in the ass!
2. Zip them and hope its small enough.
3. Use a file dump or free FTP service

To zip your files you should be able to right click on the folder and then regular click send to then compressed zip folder. Widows will do it's thing and create a new folder in the same folder you were in with a little zipper. Depending on the size of this file you can email it to me now.

If the file is still over 5 MB your ISP may not let you send it.
Right now I recommend <http://www.filefactory.com/>

Right on the home page browse for your compressed file.

1. Select files to upload

Upload up to 25 files at once.
300MB limit per file.

2. Send files to a friend (optional)

Your email

Recipient's email

0 files uploaded

Enter your email address and mine. And click upload files.
You will then see:

Your file has been uploaded!

- Small.zip of size 1.153 MB

Do not leave this page until you have copied your download links, otherwise you will not be able to retrieve them later.
Did you know that registered members can view, sort and search all the files they have uploaded? Signup is free.

Click on text links and copy the text from the window. Email this information to me separately along with the event at which they were taken to Webmaster@redneckfest.net

If you have multiple event or years you can repeat the above steps but select all event folders then compress them once.

When I get your files I will email back an acknowledgement and I will try to get your photos up within 3 days.

If you have trouble with these instructions or just plain need help. Shoot me an email.
